NEW - It's About Time: Concerns of Middle Aged and Older Transgender and Gender Diverse Individuals - Online Workshop

Register Now

What to Expect - Across the world, the proportion of older adults in developed countries is growing, including the number of middle-aged and elder people who are transgender/gender diverse (TGD). This is WPATH GEI's first course focusing on medical, biological, psychological, neuropsychological, and legal concerns of aging TGD individuals and their loved ones. The course will include 3 hours of pre-recorded videos, for attendees to view at their convenience starting July 1, and an additional 2-hour live online multidisciplinary panel (July 19). Four videoed cases will be presented in the videos and live session. Attendees will have opportunities to discuss the cases presented and to ask questions of the panelists. Myths, stereotypes, and the effects of intersectionality of ageism, ableism and transphobia will be addressed. Lastly, the potential role of these TGD middle-aged and elder individuals will be considered to help TGD youth to imagine a better future for themselves.

Live Participation: Attendees must be available to attend the live session "in-person" Friday, July 19, 2024 12:00pm – 2:00pm Eastern Time to complete the Care for Aging TGD People Workshop

NEW - WPATH GEI Online Intersectionality & Diversity Workshop

Breaking Barriers: An International and Intersectional Exploration of Access to Gender-Affirming Care for Transgender Youth and Families

registration within the foundations link above

What to Expect: Embark on a transformative journey with us at the annual WPATH conference 2024 through our groundbreaking interdisciplinary pre-conference panel presentation, "Breaking Barriers." This session will offer an exploration of the intricate landscape surrounding access to gender-affirming medical and mental health care for transgender and/or gender diverse youth and their families. With a global perspective, this panel will delve into collaborative efforts to overcome challenges and foster inclusivity.

Our panel will comprise experts spanning disciplines including medical, pharmacological, mental health, law, and advocacy, collectively providing unique insights to unravel the multifaceted barriers on a global scale. The session will emphasize intersectionality, delving into layers of identity such as race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, geography, etc., which intricately shape individuals' access to gender-affirming care.

Key Discussion Points:

International Perspectives: Gain profound insights into the diverse global landscapes of gender-affirming care, meticulously comparing and contrasting approaches, policies, and cultural nuances that profoundly influence accessibility.

Legal and Policy Considerations: Explore the intricate legal and policy frameworks affecting access to care for transgender and gender diverse youth globally. Acknowledge the variations across different regions and nations while also exploring opportunities for providing inter-jurisdictional care.

Intersectionality in Care: Discuss the profound impact of intersectionality on shaping experiences. Address disparities and promote inclusive and culturally competent practices that acknowledge the unique complexities of diverse identities.

Collaborative Strategies: Discover successful collaborative models that bridge the gap between medical and mental health services, fostering a comprehensive and supportive approach to gender-affirming care that recognizes and respects the diverse needs of individuals.

Community Advocacy and Engagement: Hear inspiring stories from an advocate who has successfully navigated barriers and instigated change at the grassroots level. Emphasize the crucial role of community-level efforts in dismantling obstacles and creating a more accessible future for transgender and gender-diverse adolescents and their families.

This pre-conference panel warmly invites attendees to participate in a dynamic discussion, encouraging the sharing of insights, strategies, and best practices. Let us collectively break down barriers, paving the way for a more inclusive and accessible future for transgender and gender-diverse youth and their families. Don't miss this extraordinary opportunity to contribute to a global conversation that advances the field and champions compassionate and affirming care for all.

Live Participation: Attendees must be available to attend the live session on Thursday, September 26, 2024 (presented live only) 1:00pm – 5:00pm WET to complete the Intersectionality & Diversity Workshop
