Voted as one of the 7 Natural Wonders of the World, Iguazú Falls is undoubtedly the most visited place in Misiones and one of the most imposing natural attractions in Argentina and the World.

Situated in Iguazú National Park, some 20 km. From Puerto Iguazú in the north of the province of Misiones, Argentina.

Iguazú river is born in Paraná, state in Brazil, and after crossing 1,200 km. on a plateau where it receives several affluents, it reaches a fault forming a crack in the interleaved layers of sandstone and basalt where the river runs.

This river runs through a smooth geography until it reaches a series of faults, and suddenly an 80 m. canyon in the Devil's Throat, the main fall of Iguazú, where the water produces a thundering sound and then drains into the Parana river.

A legend says that a big snake called "Boi" lived in the river. To calm its ferocity, aborigines sacrificed a woman every year as an offering. But once a brave guarani aborigin kidnapped the woman and saved her from the traditional rite escaping through the river. Boi burst in anger, bent its body and split the river forming the cataracts separating the man and the woman.

Walking on the footbridge

There are more than 270 falls in an area where cliffs and islets are scattered in a half moon. From the visitors center you can walk around trails or in a picturesque train. There are two basic circuits: an upper path and a lower path.

Do not miss the chance to walk along the paths, stairways, bridges and balconies through the jungle of Iguazú National Park. Take some time out to watch the native wildlife (tapirs, monkeys and hundreds of plant species)

The Province of Salta boasts a mild climate and the perfect charms to be chosen as a tourist destination year round. In addition to its natural beauties -which may be appreciated in the different regions it features-, the diversity of its denizens dazzles whoever comes along to learn about its traditions and customs, some of them secular.

The City of Salta is ideal to stay and enjoy everything from the very moment visitors leave their hotel and start to walk around. Museums, churches, historical buildings, squares and cafés, as well as other sights, give evidence of the colonial influence, appreciated in its architecture and in one of the most jealously guarded historical shells in Argentina.

There is no doubt that the past is carefully preserved at this location.

Apart from its unique scenes, its excellent cuisine is revealed in flavors, colors and aromas typical of this part of the world. Cumin is gold in these latitudes and the kindness of the people is manifest in their locros, tamales and empanadas, also part of this incredible treasure. Likewise, the land beyond the City of Salta offers paradisiacal options.

Come and discover the charm of one of the best-preserved corners of colonial life in Argentina. Admire the magnificent natural scenery of the North, declared a UNESCO world heritage site, and wander through traditional villages where time seems to have stopped.

Meet local artisans and their unique crafts such as tapestries and textiles; sheep, llama or alpaca wool ponchos; gold and silver.

The word Salta derives from the Aymara dialect "sagta", which means beautiful, and in fact today it is known as Salta "La Linda" (the beautiful one).

It is situated in a fertile valley that even today still bears the name of its founder "Valle Lerma".

The charms of the Province of Mendoza can be experienced and enjoyed year round: its natural beauties and the vastness of its mountains, its famed wineries and its excellent wines, and its well-known Grape Harvest Festival.

As a result of the development and expansion of the wine-growing sector internationally, the most important wineries open their gates to visitors and offer high-hierarchy wine tours.

The idea is to show them the daily routine necessary to make the best products, including the renowned Malbec.

No matter what cardinal point is chosen, Mendoza has everything. To the North, the high country circuit is an invitation to find mythical Mount Aconcagua and all the paths and nooks that lead to the highest summit in America.

To the South, the thriving and always new Cities of San Rafael and Malargüe summon the entire family through recreational activities and adventure sports in natural scenes such as rivers and reservoirs, lately populated by cabins and lodgings for all tastes.

Along with San Martín's Circuit, they show tourists that, in addition to good wine, this province of Argentina boasts a rich history and a fascinating culture that is evident also in its present.

Mendoza city and its beautiful surrounding mountains. Contemplate the majesty of Aconcagua Mountain at almost 7000m high, making it the highest peak in America.

On the coastline, Puerto Madryn is bathed by the blue waters of the Nuevo Gulf to the East of the Province of Chubut. It is located on the cliffs of a small high plateau that features an impressive view of the Atlantic Ocean.

Due to its particular situation, rainfalls are scarce all year round and the annual average temperature is approximately 14° C. Maximums reach 35° C in the summer and minimum temperatures drop to 5° C in the winter.

One of the tourist attractions that made this beautiful city famous all round the world is right whale watching.

Founded in 1865, with the arrival of 150 Welsh immigrants, the City of Puerto Madryn has a very large steady population and thousands of tourists visit this destination year after year.

Therefore, it continues to be the center of tourist services in the entire Patagonian coastline and the entrance gate to the large Valdés Peninsula, which was declared World Natural Heritage in 1999.

From June to December, various populations of southern right whale arrive in Puerto Madryn and may be observed either on board the boats leaving from Puerto Pirámides or standing at natural viewpoints such as El Doradillo Beach, where the whales and their calves are seen very near the shore.

Diving Capital of Argentina, Puerto Madryn summons thousands of fans that come along to dive in for the first time. And its waters are so beautiful that new followers appear every year.

During the summer, the bathing resorts in the City of Puerto Madryn and its surroundings welcome thousands of visitors. All of them provide the necessary infrastructure and are specially conditioned for the practice of nautical activities, such as windsurfing and obviously sport fishing.

The package includes:

San Carlos de Bariloche, is situated in Rio Negro Province, on the shores of Lake Nahuel Huapi. The city is surrounded by mountains and forests. Bariloche is one of the most attractive cities in the world and, of course, in Argentina.

Bariloche stands 1,640 kilometers away from the city of Buenos Aires and it offers first-class accommodation and gastronomical services.

In the summer, trout and salmonidae fly-fishing and sports recreation (especially hiking, river rafting and walks around ancient forests, as well as climbing most of the peaks surrounding the city) are some of the activities enjoyed by visitors to this great city.

During the winter, the first snowfalls announce the beginning of the ski season and the practice of winter sports at mythical Mount Cathedral, considered one of the most important ski resorts in the country.

Tours on mountain bike, rowing and horseback rides with the possibility of camping in the thick forests with natural rivers and lakes turn the city outskirts into an ideal setting to have fun with the family.

For all these reasons, San Carlos de Bariloche, where youths have spent their graduation trip for decades, has everything all generations look for.

Its nightlife, its famous discos and its splendid pubs have led many visitors to wake up in front of the lake watching the sun climbing the mountain and throwing its light upon this beautiful Andean city that they will visit once and again.

The package includes:

316 kilometers from Río Gallegos, capital of the Province of Santa Cruz, there lies the City of El Calafate, named after the small bush from southern Patagonia bearing the same name, as well as its tiny fruit.

Today El Calafate is a world destination. Part of the Patagonian steppe, El Calafate is a significant tourist center that has become famous both in the country and abroad in the last few years. Its luxurious hotels and its typical restaurants have succeeded in positioning this city among the world destinations worth visiting.

The calving of the Perito Moreno Glacier, the Patagonian lamb served at restaurants and the chance to go on the most varied tours summon visitors year round.

The climate at El Calafate is mainly dry. Average temperature in the summer is 19°C and -2° C in the winter. The sunlight hours vary according to season: in the summer, the sun rises at 5:30am and it gets dark at about 11pm; the day is shorter in the winter, as there are only 8 hours of sunlight.

“Los Glaciares” National Park occupies an area of about 500 thousand hectares and 47 glaciers start at this large ice field. Marconi, Viedma, Moyano, Upsala, Agassiz, Bolado, Onelli, Peineta, Spegazzini, Mayo, Ameghino, Moreno and Frías are some of the most important.

The package includes:

- Round trip tickets from Buenos Aires to Ushuaia.
- Transfers in and out the hotel.
- Trip to Tierra del Fuego National Park and its magnificent landscapes.

The Province of Tierra del Fuego comprises Isla Grande, Argentinian Antarctica and the South Atlantic Islands. Despite being on the southern end of the country, the former is the most popular among visitors, maybe because of its must see natural charms. Ushuaia is the capital city and a first-class tourist pole accessed either through National Route 3 or by air.

Separated from the continent, Isla Grande is shared with Chile and it features seashore on the east and south. Three well-defined sectors may be identified when traveling around the Argentinian area.

In the north, the relief is made up by high plateaus and plains with scarce vegetation made up by grass. Guanacos, foxes, sheep and cattle may be seen when toured by car. There is also the chance to observe the sea horizon. On the Atlantic, the City of Río Grande stands out within this semi arid climate with mildly cold temperatures. Some “estancias” open their gates to tourists interested in seeing the typical rural tasks.

International itineraries

PRICES ESTIMATED FOR NOVEMBER 2018:

Uruguay

Colonia del Sacramento

The historic city of Colonia del Sacramento, founded in 1680, evokes images of ancient Lisbon for its Portuguese-style architecture and winding streets.

Colonia is located in the southwestern part of Uruguay, in the Río de la Plata, and in 1995 UNESCO declared it a World Heritage Site.

You can easily visit Colonia by ferry from Buenos Aires in just a day trip, and this is one of the reasons that make its beaches a popular destination of great tourist attraction for Argentines.

Among its main monuments are the Mother Church, which is the oldest in the country, the Municipal Museum and a port dating from the seventeenth century that merges harmoniously with the river.

Montevideo

Montevideo, a port city and capital of Uruguay, is a perfect destination for those travelers looking for a relaxing walk between colonial buildings and beautiful beaches.

The Puerta de la Ciudadela, the only remaining section of the wall that once surrounded the city as a whole, serves as an entrance to the Old City, the oldest neighborhood in Montevideo.

Beautiful churches, museums and theaters, are part of the charm of Montevideo.

In addition, the area has a great nightlife thanks to the many clubs where you can enjoy tango and candombe.

Punta del Este

Punta del Este is known as the Saint-Tropez of Uruguay thanks to its beautiful beaches, its sophisticated resorts and its ostentatious nightclubs. The Conrad casino, Las Vegas-style, gives even more life to local entertainment.

If you want to take a break and enjoy the beach and the waves, ride a horse accompanied by a gaucho and enjoy the rugged plain that surrounds the city.
